

KREATOUR

VII obl., 9 pitches, 270m

V. Eder, M. Pfand 2011

Topic by Momoj 10. 2017

See HERE for more details

A nice route that it is worth to climb if you already climbed the nearby „centesimo“ and „Amok“. Consider the fact that the pros are sometimes borderline and a bit of good gut feeling in protecting yourself is in my opinion helpful. This said a nice route, far from becoming a classical as nearby there is better stuff on better rock and more continuous pitches (See Post is a much better route...)

APPROACH: park right after the tunnel before Ginzling. Walk on the street for ca 350m till you pass the 2 farmhouses of the Talaste. Then take the forested area where a good trail (steep) bring you up to the start in 20min. Avoid crossing the meadow if you want to avoid being shot by the farmer...this is MANDATORY during spring and summer months when the grass is being used, but it is also recommendable all year long.
- KEEP THE LOCAL HAPPY, respect the area, keep low profile -

Descent by rappelling off 4x with 2x60m ropes

